Volume 4, Issue 1

Dear Friends and Partners,

How is the Alberta Real Estate market you ask? Allow me to answer with a great little story that shows a perfect example of how we search for answers in life, but when the answers don't fit with our ways of thinking we simply ignore them and continue searching.

A man who is walking along a cliff suddenly loses his balance, slips and falls off. Luckily, he has the presence of mind to grab on to the ledge. He's hanging there for dear life. He's hanging and hanging and finally calls out: "Is there anybody up there that can help me?" There's no answer. He keeps calling and calling and finally this big bellowing voice calls back, "This is God. I can help you. Just let go and trust." The next thing you hear: "Is there anybody else up there that can help me?" The lesson is simple. If you want to move to a higher level of life, you have to be willing to let go of some of your old ways of thinking and being and adopt new ones. The results will eventually speak for themselves. (Partial excerpt from T. Harv Eker).

The market is doing exactly what its supposed to be doing; cooling, slowing and offering great deals for savvy investors before the next wave of appreciation comes in late 2009.

EnCana Split Sign of Good Times

Rebirth of energy giant strengthens Alberta's future
Calgary Herald

Published: Wednesday, May 14, 2008

EnCana's rebirth as two separate entities portends a strong future for the country's biggest energy player and reaffirms its commitment to developing Alberta's oilsands. The surprise restructuring announced Sunday, with the headquarters to be based locally, also further cements Calgary's position as one of the main hubs of the continental energy market.
